

Biography of the

Very Reverend Archimandrite George Nikas

Father George Nikas was born on August 25, 1969, in Athens, Greece, to the late Rev. Protopresbyter Prokopios of blessed memory and Presvytera Golfo Nikas, also of Athens, Greece. Within a year's time, Fr. George was brought to Schenectady, New York, where the family was living at the time.

Fr. George's childhood consisted of being raised within a Christian and obviously Church-oriented environment. Born into a Priest's family, Fr. George experienced a variety of social and educational challenges as the family was assigned to different communities along the East Coast. As the call to serve Christ as one of His Priests intensified, Fr. George transferred from the University of Maryland at College Park, where he was majoring in Biology, to Hellenic College. He received his BA in Religious Studies in 1996 from Hellenic College with High Distinction. Fr. George then continued on to Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology where he received his Masters of Divinity degree in 1999.

Fr. George's Priestly ministry has been characterized by others as loving, compassionate and human. He has placed special emphasis to ministering to our Youth while being easily accessible and loved by the older generations as well. Fr. George has improved the overall status of the Communities that he has served, advancing the spiritual and physical dimensions of each.
